1. A new and important line of subterranean magazines for arms, munitions and military provisions is to be constructed during 1953 in northeast Bohemia. The magazines will be along the slopes of the Orlické Hory (Adlergebirge), particularly in the regions of Náchod, Nové Město nad Metují and Rychnov nad Kněžnou.
2. The line of subterranean magazines will extend to the villages of Deštně, Zdobnice, Luisino Údolí, and Antonínův Důl in the area near Skuhrov (O 51/H 01). A communications center for military transport is to be set up at Solnice, 10 km north of Rychnov nad Kněžnou on the secondary railroad line Častolovice-Rychnov nad Kněžnou-Solnice.
3. A radar station will be set up to the east of Nové Město nad Metují in the direction of the Polish frontier. There are to be several air observation stations set up, notably at Týniště nad Orlicí.
4. The new magazines will be in charge of the garrison at Hradec Králové. Žamberk and Hronov will become garrison posts.
5. At the same time a strategic road is to be built, connecting Hradec Králové with Kladsko (Glatz), Poland.
